

CONCLUSION

IncluCity is going to be a place everyone wants to be in for many more reasons than one. As the community, company, and project grows, the city will grow with us. While we transition into this Web 3.0 world we are getting closer to every day, there will be newer versions of products and services we already use in Web 2.0. The main objective of IncluCity is to give the power and the earnings back to the user.
